Honorable Allen W, Dulles, Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington 25, D. C,

Dear Mr, Dulles:

Each year the Federal Government Accountants Association sponsors a Symposium devoted to topics of current and pertinent interest to its members and others in the administration and management field of the Government.

This year the Sixth Annual Symposium will take place on Tuesday, October 30, and the subject will be "Trends in Auditing - Government and Business." From the copy of the program enclosed you will see that our Association has been most fortunate in obtaining a strong group of speakers from Government, academic, and private industry fields.

The Federal Government has been giving increased attention to the solution of problems in the field of financial management. In view of the findings and the recommendations of the Hoover Commission, and the interest of the Bureau of the Budget and General Accounting office, we believe there could be no more timely subject than that chosen for this year's program.

We have addressed a separate letter to the individual in your agency who has served as a representative of the Joint Program for Improving Accounting in the Federal Government, to serve as a focal point within your agency for dissemination of general information on the Symposium. However, may we express the hope that you will give your personal endorsement, which has been given in the past, to the Symposium in order to insure the enthusiastic support of the employees of your agency.

Sincerely yours,

Robert W. King
President
